We Deliver

The Tumac Commodities trade staff has over 100 years combined experience in the origination, manufacture, and distribution of international and domestic food and agricultural products. Many of our customers have been with us for 30 years or more because of the expert service they receive and our outstanding network of producers and processors. We welcome the opportunity to provide your business with the quality products you need in a cost effective and timely manner.

The Tumac team, based in Portland, Oregon, has a strong reputation in the wholesale import/export special crops agriculture and food industry. We know the pitfalls of the international and domestic trade processes and work proactively to avoid them. We also have what it takes to honor our agreements.
